

Murder on a mountain

Assignment 4

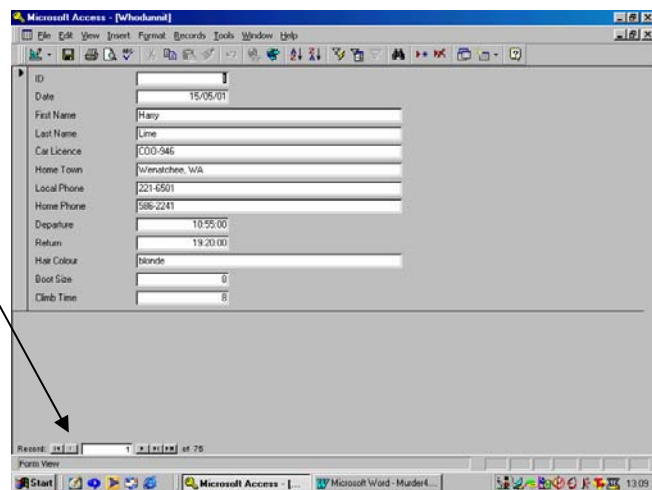

Inspector Blanc is impressed with your work; he would like to try this for himself but finds the table too difficult. He asks you if you can create a user-friendlier screen. You decide to try out the autoform facility.

Autoform

- Create an autoform for the whole database
- Click through the tabs to see the different records
- Right click on the form to find the filter facility. Experiment to find out how to filter using the form. Try using this method to search for Cleveland suspects.

You are going to change the look of the form using the form design facility.

- Right click on the form and choose form design.

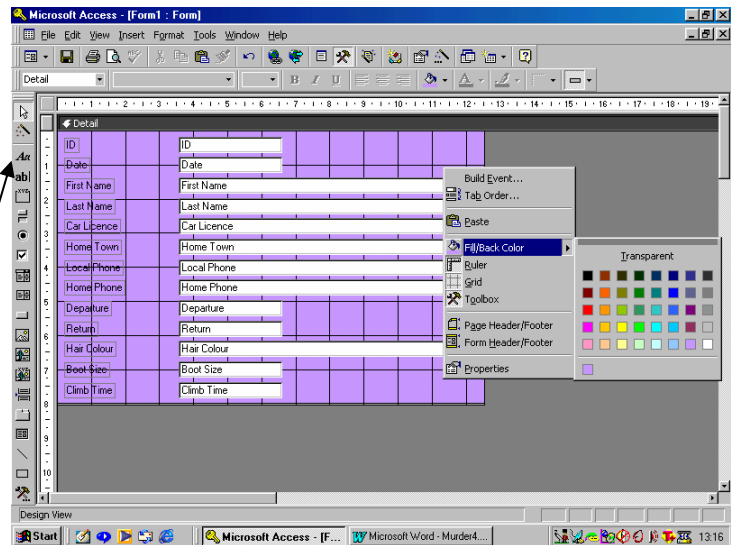

- Right click on the grid area.

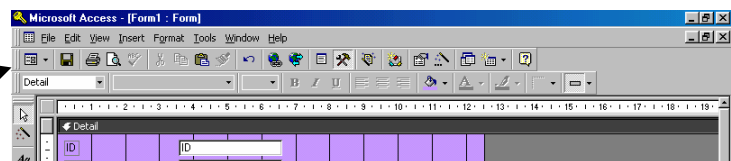

- Using Fill/Back colour change the colour of the form (you choose a sensible colour!)

- Try adding form headers/footers.

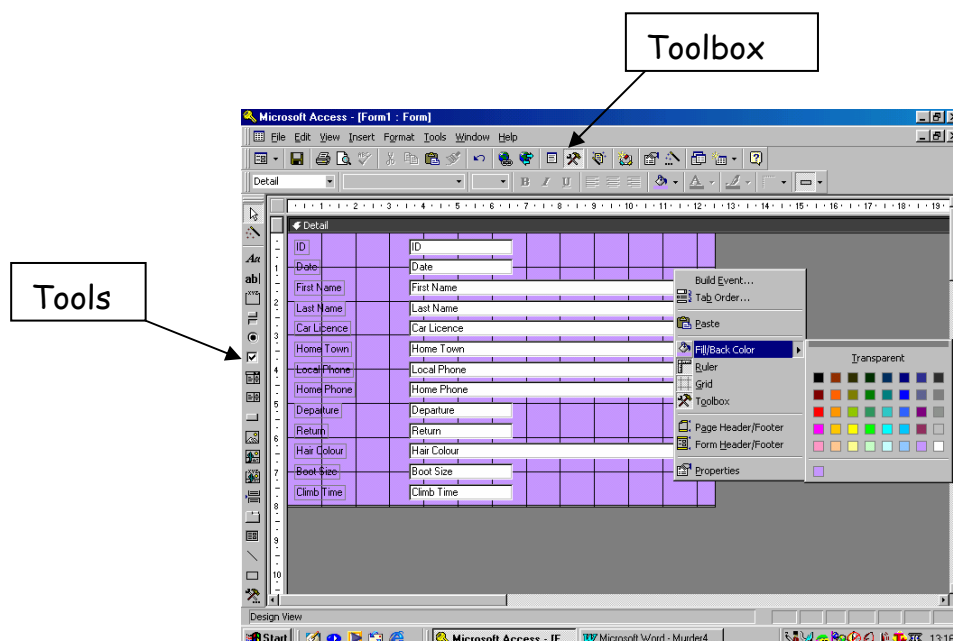

- Use the label facility to add a title. See how to add the tools below if you haven't got the toolbar.

- Click on the form button to view the outcome

- Using the toolbox see if you can add a clipart image to illustrate your form. You may need to expand the grid area by grabbing and pulling the grid area to the right. Use the database's Help!

Can you do better than this???

The screenshot shows a Microsoft Access window titled 'Microsoft Access - [Whodunnit]'. The main form is titled 'THE MURDER DATABASE' in large, bold, black letters. The form has a purple background. It contains several input fields for a murder case, including ID, Date, First Name, Last Name, Car Licence, Home Town, Local Phone, Home Phone, Departure, Return, Hair Colour, Boot Size, and Climb Time. A small image of a person skiing is visible on the right side of the form. The status bar at the bottom indicates 'Record: 1 of 75' and 'Form View'.
